NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO COMPEL COMPLIANCE WITH CIVIL LOCAL RULE 3-15 AND COURT ORDERS

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on October 31, 2025, before the Honorable Charles R. Breyer in Courtroom No. 6 on the 17th Floor of the San Francisco Courthouse for the above-entitled Court, located at 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94102, Defendants Uber Technologies, Inc., Rasier, LLC, and Rasier-CA, LLC (collectively, “Defendants”) will and hereby do move the Court to compel compliance with Civil Local Rule 3-15 and two Court Orders, the first issued on August 1, 2025 (Dkt. No. 3625, the “August 1 Order”) and the other issued on August 11, 2025 (Dkt. No. 3676, the “August 11 Order”), all of which require each law firm representing Plaintiffs in this MDL to disclose sources of third-party litigation funding with an interest in the outcome of the litigation and file a digest of all such interested entities (and the cases in which they have an interest) in the MDL docket.

The Motion to Compel Compliance with Civil Local Rule 3-15 and the August 1 and 11 Court Orders is based on this Notice of Motion, the attached Memorandum of Points and Authorities, its exhibits, and the pleadings and papers on file herein.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. Introduction and Summary of Argument

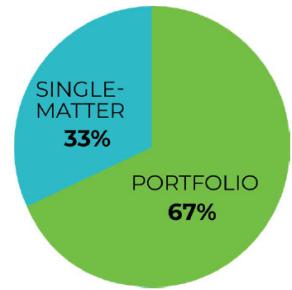

Civil Local Rule 3-15, as well as the Court’s August 1 (Dkt. No. 3625) and August 11 (Dkt. No. 3676) Orders, require all MDL Plaintiffs’ counsel to fully disclose third-party contingent litigation funding, whether that financing is individual-plaintiff-based or portfolio-based. The August 11 Order, issued after Plaintiffs did not respond to the August 1 Order, stated that “a provider of litigation funding whose financial arrangement is in any way contingent on the outcome of litigation is subject to disclosure under Civil Local Rule 3-15(b)(2), and . . . if Plaintiffs are aware of entities with such interests, Plaintiffs must file digests in the MDL docket identifying them no later than August 8, 2025.” (Dkt. No. 3676). In response to the August 11 Order, Plaintiffs’ counsel representing some Plaintiffs in this MDL made just four disclosures and limited those disclosures to individual-plaintiff-based financing. (Dkt. Nos. 3683, 3684, 3685, and 3698). But Civil Local Rule 3-15 and the Court’s Orders require more. Each firm representing Plaintiffs must disclose all entities with financial arrangements “in any way contingent on the outcome of litigation,” (Civ. L.R. 3-15(b)(2); Dkt. Nos. 3625, 3676), which includes portfolio-based financing.

Plaintiffs' omission of portfolio-based financing is significant. As the below graphic from the 2024 Litigation Finance Market Report shows, 2/3 of litigation financing arrangements over the past five years have been "portfolio" deals (excluded from Plaintiffs' disclosures), and only 1/3 are "single matter" deals (covered in the Plaintiffs' disclosures).¹

1 2 Type Of Deal Structure

4 The allocation of capital between single-matter and 5 portfolio deals remained consistent in 2024 compared 6 with prior years, with portfolios comprising 67% of 7 new capital commitments. The ratio of portfolio deals 8 to single-matter deals has remained approximately 9 2:1 consistently from 2019 through 2024.

14 Bloomberg Law reports indicate that various plaintiffs' firms—including Johnson Law Group, 15 which represents 67 Plaintiffs in the MDL—are known to have ties with litigation funders. See, e.g., 16 Declaration of Christopher V. Cotton (“Cotton Decl.”) Ex. A (“Fortress’ Billions Quietly Power 17 America’s Biggest Legal Fights,” Bloomberg Law (Oct. 16, 2024) (noting that Fortress has provided 18 funding to Johnson Law Group and others and the source of the graphic below).

In certain locations where local laws have dispensed with the general prohibition that non-lawyers may not share in fees or own law firms, third-party litigation funders have even invested directly in plaintiffs' firms, taking on a partial ownership role.²

Uber respectfully requests that this Court order all counsel representing any Plaintiffs in the MDL to disclose any litigation financing contingent, in whole or in part, on the outcome of a single Uber case, a portfolio of cases against Uber, or some broader portfolio that includes but is not limited to Uber cases.

² See Emily R. Siegel, Fortress Law Firm Investment Signals Shift in Legal Industry, Bloomberg Law, (Aug. 28, 2025), <https://news.bloomberglaw.com/litigation-finance/fortress-injury-lawyer-play-is-sign-of-times-as-industry-shifts> (reporting third-party litigation funder Fortress Investment Group has a 20% economic interest in a Phoenix personal injury law firm).

1 II. Background

2 Under Civil Local Rule 3-15 and the Court’s Orders, Plaintiffs must disclose both individual-3 plaintiff-based and portfolio-based contingent litigation financing. Plaintiffs have not disclosed the 4 information, despite multiple requests by Uber.

5 In June 2025, Uber served subpoenas on Plaintiffs’ leadership firms, seeking documents
 6 regarding litigation funding. Plaintiffs moved to quash those subpoenas (Dkt. No. 3402). The Court
 7 granted Plaintiffs’ motion in the August 1 Order. The Court ruled that although it was not persuaded 8 that litigation funding “is relevant to any party’s claim or defense,” Civil Local Rule 3-15’s “plain 9 language” required disclosure of any “provider of litigation funding whose financial arrangement is in 10 any way contingent on the outcome of litigation,” and required that “[e]ach law firm representing 11 Plaintiffs in this case must file a digest of all such interested entities (and the cases in which they have 12 an interest) in the MDL docket no later than August 8, 2025.” The August 1 Order “includ[ed]” as 13 interested entities any “sources of litigation funding whose arrangements are contingent in any way 14 on the outcome of litigation.” (Id.) (emphasis added). The Court’s Order did not limit disclosure to 15 sources of litigation funding whose arrangements are contingent on the outcome for any particular 16 plaintiff.

17 When Plaintiffs’ firms did not file the required digest of interested entities by August 8, the 18 Court issued the August 11 Order, which states:

19 In a previous [3625] Order, the Court determined that “a provider of 20 litigation funding whose financial arrangement is in any way contingent 21 on the outcome of litigation” is subject to disclosure under Civil Local 22 Rule 3-15(b)(2), and ordered that if Plaintiffs are aware of entities with 23 such interests, Plaintiffs must file digests in the MDL docket identifying 24 them no later than August 8, 2025. That deadline has passed, and no 25 disclosures have been filed. Plaintiffs are ORDERED to file a status 26 report no later than August 12, 2025 either confirming that they are not 27 aware of entities with such interests or otherwise explaining their failure 28 to file disclosures by the August 8th deadline.

Dkt. No. 3676

In response, most Plaintiffs’ firms did not make any disclosures. A few Plaintiffs’ firms did file three status reports on August 12 and one firm filed a status report on August 14, but those reports are incomplete and do not address litigation funding arrangements “contingent in any way on the 1 outcome of litigation,” as the Court had twice ordered. Instead, the reports are limited to disclosures 2 about “any plaintiff”:

3 Plaintiffs’ Co-Lead Counsel: “are not aware of any plaintiff who intends 4 to submit a supplemental Civil Local Rule 3.15 Certificate of Interested 5 Entities,” and “do understand that some plaintiffs have not yet submitted 6 their original Certificates, but will do so by August 15.” (Dkt. No. 3684, 7 attached as Cotton Decl. Ex. B).

8 Williams Hart & Boundas, LLP: “is not aware of any providers of 9 litigation funding whose financial arrangement or interest is in any way 10 contingent on the outcome of litigation as to any of its Jane Doe WHB 11 plaintiffs.” “Each Williams Hart & Boundas plaintiff filed a “Certificate 12 of Interested Parties or Entities” contemporaneously with the individual 13 Short Form Complaint ...” (Dkt. No. 3683, attached as Cotton Decl. Ex.
 14 C) (emphasis added).

15 Nachawati Law Group: “confirms that it is not aware of any providers 16 of litigation funding whose financial arrangement or interest is any way 17 contingent on the outcome of litigation as to any of its NGL plaintiffs.
 18 ...Each NGL plaintiff has filed or is filing a ‘Certificate of Interested 19 Parties or Entities’ in the individual cases pursuant to Civil Local Rule 20 3-15” (Dkt. No. 3685, attached as Cotton Decl. Ex. D) (emphasis 21 added).

22 Simmons Hanly Conroy, LLP: “confirms they are not aware of any 23 providers of litigation funding whose financial arrangement or interest 24 is in any way contingent on the outcome of this litigation as to any of its 25 Plaintiffs. ...Each Simmons Hanly Conroy, LLP plaintiff filed a Civil 26 Local Rule 3.15 Certificate of Interested Entities contemporaneously
 27 with their Short Form Complaint ...” (Dkt. No. 3698, attached as Cotton 28 Decl. Ex. E) (emphasis added).

29 Because these status reports limited disclosures to “any plaintiff,” i.e., third-party litigation 30 funding on a single-matter basis, they are inadequate under Civil Local Rule 3-15 and do not comply 31 with the August 1 and August 11 Orders, both of which require disclosure of litigation financing “in 32 any way contingent on the outcome of litigation.” On August 18, Uber requested that Plaintiffs’ firms 33 file supplemental certificates of interested parties under Civil Local rule 3-15 to address these 34 deficiencies. The letter specifically requested information about contingent portfolio funding, stating, 35 “Since litigation funders often engage in portfolio funding where multiple cases belonging to a law 36 firm are funded under one agreement, Plaintiffs’ firms’ disclosures must include any entities that are 37 funding groups of multiple cases where the financial arrangements in play are in any way contingent 38 on the outcome of those multiple cases.” See Cotton Decl. Ex. F (August 18, 2025 Letter).

1 The parties met and conferred on August 25. During that meet and confer, counsel for Uber
 2 reiterated the points made in the August 18 letter and expressly asked Plaintiffs' counsel to disclose 3 portfolio-based contingent litigation financing. Plaintiffs' counsel did not reveal whether such 4 portfolio-based contingent litigation financing exists. Instead, Plaintiffs' counsel pointed back to the 5 prior individual-plaintiff-based responses. Ultimately, during the August 25 meet and confer, 6 Plaintiffs' leadership suggested that Uber propose language for a template certification for Plaintiffs' 7 counsel to complete. Per Plaintiffs' request, Uber prepared a proposed certification, which was 8 presented to Plaintiffs' leadership the next day, on August 26. See Cotton Decl. Ex. G (August 26, 9 2025 Email with accompanying proposed certification). Plaintiffs' leadership did not agree to the 10 proposed certification.

11 To date, Plaintiffs' firms have not filed complete and accurate certifications and have not 12 fulfilled their obligations under Civil Local Rule 3-15 and this Court's August 1 and August 11 Orders.

13 III. Argument

14 Civil Local Rule 3-15 requires “[e]ach non-governmental party” to “file a ‘Certification of 15 Conflicts and Interested Entities or Persons,’ Civ. L.R. 3-15(a), which “must disclose any persons, 16 associations of persons, firms, partnerships, corporations (including, but not limited to, parent 17 corporations), or any other entities, other than the parties themselves, known by the party to have 18 either: (i) a financial interest of any kind in the subject matter in controversy ... ; or (ii) any other kind 19 of interest that could be substantially affected by the outcome of the proceeding.” Civ. L.R. 3-15(b)(2).
 20 Any loans for which repayment is in any way contingent on the outcome of the litigation or which 21 provide for additional compensation based on the outcome of the litigation or control over the direction
 22 of the litigation must also be disclosed. See August 1 Order at fn. 1.³

23

25

26

27

28

³ Uber is not seeking disclosure of information about loans “for which payment is not in any way contingent on the outcome of the litigation, and which provide[] for no other compensation based on the outcome of litigation or control over the direction of litigation.” Id.

1 The Northern District of California was the first court to require third-party litigation funding 2 disclosure as part of a standing order.⁴ The standing order requires the following:

3 Disclosure of Non-party Interested Entities or Persons: Whether each 4 party has filed the “Certification of Interested Entities or Persons” 5 required by Civil Local Rule 3-15. In addition, each party must restate 6 in the case management statement the contents of its certification by 7 identifying any persons, firms, partnerships, corporations (including 8 parent corporations) or other entities known by the party to have either 9 (i) a financial interest in the subject matter in controversy or in a party to the proceeding; or (ii) any other kind of interest that could be substantially affected by the outcome of the proceeding. In any proposed class, collective, or representative action, the required disclosure includes any person or entity that is funding the prosecution of any claim or counterclaim.

10 See Standing Order for All Judges of the Northern District of California, § 17 (Nov. 30, 2023).

11 Civil Local Rule 3-15 and the Court’s standing order recognize that the Court and litigants 12 need to know how third-party litigation funding is involved for many reasons, including but not limited 13 to determining the real entities with interests in the outcome of the litigation, avoiding conflicts of 14 interest, ensuring compliance with ethical rules, and protecting all parties.⁵ “The unique nature of 15 multidistrict litigation and class actions warrant transparency, the highest regard for professional 16 conduct, and confidence in leadership and class counsel.” Gibson v. Nat’l Ass’n of Realtors, No. 23-
 17 CV-00788-SRB, 2025 WL 2491196, at *1 (W.D. Mo. Aug. 18, 2025). As another MDL court recently 18 remarked:

19 For at least the past decade, multidistrict litigations (“MDLs”) have 20 attracted the attention of third-party litigation funding entities, some 21 with ill motives aimed at preying on litigants. Typically, third-party 22 litigation funding is provided in exchange for an interest in the 23 settlement recovery or on credit, often with exorbitant fees and rates of 24 interest. According to a December 2022 report of the United States 25 Government Accountability Office, such funding is not only expensive 26 for participants, but it also “could create conflicts of interest between 27 plaintiffs and their attorneys” and may improperly “deter plaintiffs from 28 accepting a settlement offer because they want to make up the amount they will” be forced to “repay the funder.”

 3 plaintiffs' counsel and pro se plaintiffs of third-party litigation funding and citing this Court's standing 4 order while noting that "some federal courts have formalized a requirement that litigants disclose 5 information about their third-party litigation funding arrangements"). Because "[o]utside interests 6 have an impact" on leadership and can be "vested with undue influence or control over the underlying 7 litigation," Plaintiffs' counsel must reveal the identities of third-party entities who have interests in 8 the outcome of the litigation. Gibson, 2025 WL 2491196, at *1 (ordering each applicant for leadership 9 or class counsel to "provide the Court and the public" with a written declaration answering eleven 10 questions about entities financing the litigation); see also In re Zantac (Ranitidine) Prods. Liab. Litig., 12 plaintiff's leadership/PSC to provide written responses to questions about entities financing the 13 litigation, noting that "[t]he unique nature of an MDL, and particularly one of this potential size, 14 warrants transparency, the highest regard for professional conduct, and confidence in the leadership 15 and in the manner in which the case is handled by all parties"); In re 3M Combat Arms Earplug Prods. Liab. Litig., No. 3:19-md-02885 (N.D. Fla. 20 Two-thirds of all litigation funding is portfolio-based, not single-plaintiff based. As discussed 21 in Westfleet Advisors' 2024 Litigation Finance Report, "the allocation of capital structure between 22 single-matter and portfolio deals remained consistent in 2024 compared with prior years, with 23 portfolios comprising 67% of new capital commitments. The ratio of portfolio deals to single-matter 24 deals has remained approximately 2:1 consistently from 2019 to 2024."⁷

27 ⁷ WESTFLEET ADVISORS, THE WESTFLEET INSIDER: 2024 LITIGATION FINANCE 28 MARKET REPORT 6 (6th ed. 2024).

1 Neither the Local Rules nor this Court’s Orders exclude the more-common portfolio-based 2 contingent litigation financing. To the contrary, in its August 1 Order, this Court stated that “[u]nder 3 the plain language of Local Rule 3-15, a provider of litigation funding whose financial interest is in 4 any way contingent on the outcome of litigation has ‘a financial interest of any kind in the subject 5 matter of the controversy’” and ordered that “[e]ach law firm representing Plaintiffs in this case must 6 file a digest of all such interested entities (and the cases in which they have an interest)” (August 7 1 Order). Similarly, the Court’s August 11 Order states that “a provider of litigation funding whose 8 financial arrangement is in any way contingent on the outcome of litigation is subject to disclosure 9 under Civil Local Rule 3-15(b)(2).” (Dkt. No. 3676); cf. In re Rule 8, Rules of Civil Procedure, No.
 10 R-25-0003, (Ariz. Aug. 26, 2025) (modifying Ariz. R. Civ. Rule 8 to require third-party litigation 11 funding disclosures including “whether the funding is applicable to a portfolio of cases or is specific 12 to this litigation”); Standing Order Regarding Third-Party Litigation Funding Arrangements (D. Del.
 13 Apr. 18, 2022) (requiring disclosures regarding any third party providing funding for any attorneys’ 14 fees and expenses in relation to “the litigation”); U.S.D.C. D.N.J. Civ. L.R. 7.1.1. (June 21, 2021) 15 (same); see also, e.g., W. Va. Code § 46A-6N-6 (2024) (requiring disclosure of any agreement “under 16 which any litigation financier, other than an attorney permitted to charge a contingent fee representing 17 a party, has a right to receive compensation that is contingent in any respect on the outcome of the 18 legal claim.”); Ga. S.B. 69 (2025) (to be codified at Ga. Code Ann. § 9-11-26(b)(2.1)(A)) (“A party 19 may obtain discovery of the existence and terms and conditions of any litigation financing agreement 20”); Mont. Code § 31-4-108 (2023) (requiring disclosure of litigation financing contract); Wis.
 21 Code § 804.01(2)(bg) (2018) (requiring disclosure of any agreement with a third party that “has a right 22 to receive compensation that is contingent on and sourced from any proceeds of the civil action, by 23 settlement, judgment, or otherwise”).

24 Whether Plaintiffs’ firms have obtained third-party contingent funding to finance a single Uber 25 case, a portfolio of cases against Uber, or some broader portfolio that includes but is not limited to 26 Uber cases, those Plaintiffs’ firms must disclose that funding under Civil Local Rule 3-15 and this 27 Court’s Orders.

1 IV. Conclusion

2 Based on the foregoing, and consistent with Civil Local Rule 3-15 and the August 1 and 11
3 Orders, Uber requests the Court order all law firms that represent Plaintiffs in the MDL to file updated 4 Civil Local Rule 3-15 disclosures including any litigation financing contingent, in whole or in part, on 5 the outcome of a single Uber case, a portfolio of cases against Uber, or some broader portfolio that 6 includes but is not limited to Uber cases.
